IN the year 1806, the late Chevalier Millin, Keeper of the Collection of Medals and Antiquities in the National Library at Paris, published a Medallic History of the French Revolution, containing a description of all the Medals and Coins struck from the convocation of the States General in 1789, till the first campaign of General Bonaparte in Italy, in 1796.

In his preface to this work, the author announced his intention of giving shortly to the public a second part, entitled, “ A Medallic History of Napoleon,” illustrating the interval between 1796 and the battle of Austerlitz in 1805. This work, although anxiously expected, never appeared.

As the events which afterwards took place in France, no longer admitted of such a publication in that country ; the Chevalier Millin, some time before his death, disposed of the copper-plates and the manuscript to the Editor.

To the Plates, which were thirty-four in number, the Editor has added five, viz. Nos. 29, 36, 37, 38, 39. containing pieces omitted by M. Millin : making in all thirty-nine Plates, which form the First Part of this work. And that the Collection may be as complete as possible, he has also added a Second Part, beginning in 1806, and ending with the second abdication of Napoleon in 1815.

This work comprehends not only the Medals, Coins, and Jettons struck in France, but those issued by other states in alliance with France; those of the different Princes of the Napoleon family; and in general, all such pieces as tend to illustrate this period of history.

Since the dissolution of the Roman Empire, no events of such importance have occurred, as those which the present series was intended to commemorate. All Europe has been overwhelmed by the devastating torrent of war; armies, of which the numbers will perhaps appear fabulous to posterity, have been brought into the field. The secret of the relative force and weakness of the various states has been revealed; new systems of war, finance, and administration, have been created.

These great events, to which the French Revolution had in some measure led the way, were produced by a single individual, who, by his genius and talents, raised himself from a private station, to the sovereignty of the most powerful state in Europe.

Placed on the first throne in the world, as constitutional monarch, by the consent of the nation; not only acknowledged, but feared and courted, by other powers; the Emperor Napoleon possessed opportunities of benefiting mankind, which, perhaps, no other sovereign ever enjoyed.

Not satisfied with such splendid advantages, but deluded by an insatiable ambition, a passion for war, and a blind confidence in his fortune; he formed the project of acquiring universal empire, by rendering all the other states of Europe tributary, or by incorporating them with France. To accomplish this project, he was involved in perpetual warfare, which obliged him to have recourse to the most oppressive measures for the recruitment and subsistence of his army. Hence, his government became gradually intolerable and odious, even to the French nation, on which his exploits had conferred so much glory.

This rash ambition, which inflicted such calamities on Europe, threatened it with still greater. There can be but little doubt, that if Napoleon had succeeded in his designs, the most oppressive military despotism would have ensued. In a few generations, civilization would either have been annihilated, or have migrated to other parts of the globe. Europe would have sunk into barbarism, and have been reduced to the same state in which Turkey is at present. From such imminent danger, the overthrow of Napoleon fortunately liberated the world; and all the friends of the cause of liberty, who had conceived hopes from his elevation, contemplated his fall with satisfaction.

But the events of this period derive their greatest interest from the consequences that will result from them, and from their future influence on the destinies, not only of Europe, but of the whole world. It is impossible to calculate the nature and extent of these consequences: but, from the progressive improvement in the state of the public mind, we may hope that they will be favourable to humanity. Such are the inscrutable ways of Divine Providence, that good is sometimes made to proceed from evil.

In addition to the Historical interest, many of the Medals of this Series, are deserving of attention as works of Art.

It is curious to trace, in how short a space of time, under a government which affords sufficient encouragement, and has taste to give a proper direction to the Arts, they will rise from a state of inferiority to elegance and perfection. The first Medals of Napoleon, struck between 1796 and 1802, are of very indifferent design and execution. But under the direction of M. Denon, they gradually improved, and at length attained a high degree of beauty.

The heads by Andrieu and Droz, from the bust of Chaudet, are some of the best executed since the revival of the Arts. To a striking resemblance, they unite ideal beauty and character. This union is what distinguishes the portraits of ancient artists, and what ought to be the principal object with sculptors and painters when they take resemblances

The reverses of many of the Paris Mint Medals are distinguished by elegance of composition; particularly those imitated from monuments of antiquity, the true school for good taste. The adulation displayed in some of the types and inscriptions, is deserving, however, of severe censure.

The Medals of the Milan Mint, executed under the direction of M. Cattaneo, although few in number, vie, in point of beauty and execution, with those of Paris.

As most of the Medals occur in gold, silver, and copper, the metal has not been indicated.

The Medals of the Paris Mint are distinguished by the mark (P.M.)

PART I.

From 1796 to 1806.

---

1. Plate IV. Bust of General Bonaparte in uniform. Underneath, GAYRARD F.

Reverse. Victory holding a sword, palm branch, and laurel crown, hovers over a section of the globe, on which Italy, Greece, and part of the Turkish Empire are figured. On a hill, to the left, the redoubt of Montelesimo, so gallantly defended by the Brigade of General Rampon. JEUFFROY F. DENON DIR. Exergue. BATAILLE DE MONTENOTTE, MDCCXCVI. (P. M.)

The Battle of Montenotte, the first victory of the Army of Italy, was given on the 11th of April, 1796.

This Medal, the first in chronological order, was only struck several years afterwards, when Mons. Denon had been appointed Director of the Medal Mint.

2. Plate I. BATAILLE DE MILLESIMO, COMBAT DE DEGO. Hercules destroying with his club the Hydra of Lerna. On the ground is the torch with which the Hero seared the necks of the monster, as he destroyed the heads, to prevent their growing again.

Reverse. LOI DU 6 FLORÉAL, AN 4<sup>ME</sup>. DE LA REP. In the centre, LE PEUPLE FRANÇAIS À L'ARMÉE D'ITALIE. On the edge, BONAPARTE, GÉNÉRAL EN CHEF. (P.M.)

The Battle of Millesimo took place on the 14th of April, 1796; that of Dego on the 15th.

By the law of the 25th of April (6th Floréal), related on the reverse, the Legislative Body declared, "that the Army of Italy had deserved well of the country."

This Medal, as well as those No. 3, 4, 5, and 7, were engraved by Mr. Lavy, and struck in Italy, to commemorate the victories of the French Army. The dies (excepting that of the Battle of Lodi) were afterwards sent to Paris, and formed a part of the Medal Mint series.

The Medals struck from these dies in Italy, are the most scarce and valuable: they are easily distinguished by the colour of the metal, and by the inscription on the edge.

3. Plate II. PASSAGE DU PO, DE L'ADDA ET DU MINCIO. Exergue. AN 4 REP. General Berthier, at the head of a column of Infantry, advancing over the Bridge of Lodi.

Reverse. A' L'ARMÉE D'ITALIE LA PATRIE RECONNAISSANTE. LOI DU 24 PRAIRIAL, AN 4<sup>ME</sup>. REP. On the edge, same inscription as No. 2.

The inscription of the obverse, mentions the passage of three rivers in Italy; but the type represents that of the Adda, and the celebrated battle of Lodi, on the 9th May, 1796.

By the law of the 12th June (24 Prairial), the Legislative Body declared, that "the Army of Italy continued to deserve well of the country."

4. Plate I. COMBAT DE CASTIGLIONE. COMBAT DE PESCHIERA. A laurel-wreath between the two inscriptions. A warrior having already vanquished one of his enemies, who is lying on the ground, is engaged in combat with another, who unable to resist, sues for mercy. Exergue. LAVY.

Reverse. Two trumpets crossed, and a laurel-wreath. Above, L'ARMÉE D'ITALIE. Underneath, LOI DU 27 THERMIDOR AN 4<sup>re</sup>. REP. On the edge, same inscription as No. 2. (P. M.)

The affairs of Castiglione and Peschiera took place on the 4th and 5th of August, 1796. The two warriors vanquished, allude to the two Austrian Armies of Tyrol and of Italy, defeated in these actions.

By the decree of the 14th August (27 Thermidor), 1796, the Legislative Body declared, "that the Army of Italy continued to deserve well of the country."

5. Plate I. A turreted female figure representing Mantua, presents the keys of the city to a warrior. In the back ground, a view of the city, and of an aqueduct. Under the warrior, the artist's name: LAVY. Exergue, REDDITION DE MANTOUE.

Reverse. A L'ARMÉE D'ITALIE VICTORIEUSE. LOI DU 24 PLUVIOSE, AN 5<sup>re</sup>. R. A laurel-wreath and thunderbolt. On the edge, same inscription as No. 2. (P. M.)

The French Army took possession of Mantua on the 2d of February, 1797:

The law of the 12th February (24th of Pluviose) declared, "that the Army of Italy had never ceased to deserve well of the country."

6. Plate IV. VIRGILIUS MARO—Head commonly supposed to be that of Virgil, but which represents one of the Muses. On the lower part, E GATTEAUX F. Underneath, DENON D<sup>r</sup>.

Reverse. CAPITULATION DE MANTOUE. XXX JANVIER MDCCXCVII. Mural Crown : underneath, a swan, allusive to the Mantuan Bard, and to the situation of the city, surrounded by a lake. (P. M.)

7. Plate III. The River God of the Tagliamento, reclining on his urn ; he sees, with grief and indignation, the defeat of the Austrian army, which he is unable to protect, and the advance of the French, who are fording the river, notwithstanding his opposition. LAVY. Exergue, PASSAGE DU TAGLIAMENTO. PRISE DE TRIESTE.

Reverse. LOI DU 15 GERMINAL, AN 5<sup>ME</sup> DE LA REP. Laurel-wreath, in the centre, A L'ARMÉE D'ITALIE. On the edge, same inscription as No. 2. (P. M.)

The French Army passed the Tagliamento on the 16th of March, 1797, and took possession of Trieste on the 23d of the same month.

The 4th April (15 Germinal) the Legislative Body declared, "that the Army of Italy did never cease to deserve well of the country."

8. Plate V. BONAPARTE GÉN<sup>AL</sup> EN CHEF DE L'ARMÉE FRANÇ<sup>SE</sup> EN ITALIE. Bust of General Bonaparte in uniform. On the lower part, B. DUVIVIER F. Exergue. OFFERT A L'INSTITUT NATION. PAR B. DUVIVIER, A PARIS.

Reverse. LES SCIENCES ET LES ARTS RECONNOISSANTS. General Bonaparte on horseback, holding an olive-branch, is conducted by the Goddesses of Prudence and Valour. Victory hovering in the air, carries in one hand the statue of the Belvedere Apollo ; and with the other, holds a laurel-wreath over the head of her favourite.—Exergue, PAIX SIGNÉE L'AN 6 REP. FR. (P. M.)

Medal intended to commemorate the Treaty of Campo Formio, concluded the 17th October, 1797.

9. Plate III. BUONAPARTE GÉNÉRAL EN CHEF DE LA BRAVE ARMÉE D'ITALIE. Bust of General Bonaparte in uniform. On the lower part, P. F., initials of the engraver, Pierre Fevrier.

Reverse. VOILÀ SOLDATS VALEUREUX LE FRUIT DE VOS TRAVAUX, 1797. Minerva, sitting near a trophy of arms, and leaning on her shield, holds two branches united of laurel and of oak; emblems of civic and military virtues.

Medal struck at Lyons, after the Treaty of Campo Formio. Jettons of different sizes, with the same types and legends, were struck at Nuremberg, some of which bear the date of 1796.

10. Plate III. BUONAPARTE GÉNÉRAL EN CHEF DE L'ARMÉE D'ITALIE. Bust of General Bonaparte in uniform. Underneath, CIV. ET ART. LUG. OPP. "The Citizens and Manufacturers of the City of Lyons."

Reverse. À BUONAPARTE L'ITALIQUE LE 26 V<sup>RE</sup>. L'AN 6. Peace holding in one hand an olive-branch, and leaning with the other on a cornucopia, is seated before an altar on which incense is burning. Exergue, IL NE COMBATTIT QUE POUR LA PAIX ET LES DROITS DE L'HOMME. Under the figure, CHAVANNE F.

This Medal was struck by order of the city of Lyons, to commemorate the Treaty of Campo Formio, signed the 17th October (26 Vendémiaire), 1797.

11. Plate III. NAPOLEON BONAPARTE. Bust of General Bonaparte in uniform. Underneath, LUI. MANFREDINI F.

Reverse. REPUBBLICA CISALPINA, the Cisalpine Republic, her head covered with a helmet, sitting on a square base, ornamented with the level, emblem of Equality : in one hand she holds the fasces, symbol of concord ; and, in the other, a spear surmounted by the cap of Liberty. A cuirass, helmet, shield, and plough, emblems of war and peace, are lying near her.

This Medal was intended to commemorate the foundation of the Cisalpine Republic, proclaimed the 9th of July, 1797.

12. Plate IV. NAPOLEONE BUONAPARTE. Bust of General Bonaparte in uniform. On the lower part, N. VASSALLO F. Exergue, LA LIGURIA RICONOSCENTE.

Reverse. G. GUGLIELMO FAIPOULT. Bust of General Faipoult, Minister from the French Government to the Ligurian Republic. Exergue, LA LIGURIA RICONOSCENTE. Above, H. VASSALLO.

This Medal was struck the first year of the Ligurian Republic, by N. Vassallo, engraver to the Mint of Genoa.

13. Plate IV. The Genius of the Fine Arts presents a pallet and brushes to a bust of Janus (emblem of the city of Genoa). At the foot of a pedestal, which supports the bust, are various attributes of sculpture and architecture. Legend, ET VETERES REVOCAVIT ARTES. (Horat. Carm. lib. iv. Od. 14.) Exergue, ACADEMIA LIGUSTICA. MDCCLVIII. Underneath, H. VASSALLO F.

Reverse. REDEUNT SATURNIA REGNA—VIRG. ECL. IV. Liguria, represented as an armed female, sits embracing with her left arm the fasces, surmounted by a cap of Liberty. On the square base that supports the fasces, are the arms of Genoa ; above them is a level, and the tables of the new constitution. On the ground, on one side are a plough and spade; on the other side, a globe, quadrant, and anchor. Exergue. ANNO MDCCXVII. XVIII KAL. IVL. (14th of June). On the plinth, H. VASSALLO.

This Medal is commemorative of the foundation of the Ligurian Republic on the 14th of June, 1797. It was struck by the Academy of the Fine Arts in Genoa, as a premium for the students of the Schools of Painting, Sculpture, and Architecture.

14. Plate V. ALL' ITALICO. Bust of General Bonaparte in uniform. On the lower part, H. VASSALLO F.

Reverse. L' INSUBRIA LIBERA. The French Republic, accompanied by Peace holding an olive-branch, places the cap of liberty on the head of Insubria, who is conducted by a genius. D. S. F. initials of the engraver. Exergue. IX LUGLIO MDCCXCVII.

Medal intended to commemorate the foundation of the Cisalpine Republic, proclaimed the 9th of July, 1797, and the Federation celebrated at Milan in the Campo Marzio.

*14. Plate XXXVIII. ITALICUS. Bust of Bonaparte.

Reverse. ALEXAND. BONAPARTE POST HERCULEOS LABORES REPORTATAS UNO ANNO CXI VICTORIAS ITALIÆ LIBERATORI EUROPÆ PACIFICATORI. "To Alexander Bonaparte, on his Herculean labours, " CXI victories gained in one year; to the deliverer of Italy, the pacificator of Europe." Under the inscription, a helmet, shield, standards, and various arms. Exergue. D. XVII OCT. MDCCXCVII.

This Medal was struck at Strasburgh, on the conclusion of the Peace of Campo Formio, at the expense of M. Stephen Mainoni, since Director of the Tobacco-farm at Milan. It is remarkable on account of the name of Alexander substituted for that of Napoleon.

15. Plate I. BONAPARTE NÉ À AJACCIO LE 15 AOUT, 1769.
Bust of General Bonaparte in uniform.

Reverse. A wreath of olive branches. In the centre, LA FRANCE
LUI DEVRA LA VICTOIRE ET LA PAIX. Underneath, AN 6 DE LA REPUBLIQUE.

16. Plate IV. HEROS BUONAPARTE. Bust of General Bonaparte.

Reverse. In a wreath of laurel, LES FRUITS DE SES ACTIONS, 1796. Jetton of very inferior execution.

17. Plate VII. A BUONAPARTE. Bust of General Bonaparte.

Reverse. RESTAURATEUR DE LA LIBERTÉ. Two branches of oak.

Cast in pewter, of the rudest execution; intended for the lower order of the people. After the battle of Arcola and Rivoli.

18. Plate VI. The Nile, copied from the ancient statue in the Vatican. The children playing around him, allude to the number of cubits to which the waters of the Nile should rise at the period of its annual inundation, to ensure a fertile harvest. On the plinth, BRENET. Exergue. CONQUETE DE LA BASSE ÉGYPTÉ AN 7.

Reverse. A view of the Pyramids of Ghizeh, near Cairo. Exergue. DENON DIR. G. DU MUSÉE C. D. ARTS.—BRENET. (P. M.).

Alexandria and Rosetta were taken the 2d of July, 1798, and on the 29th, the Commander in Chief made his entry into Cairo.

19. Plate VI. CONQUETE DE LA HAUTE ÉGYPTÉ. AN VII.
Head of Isis. Under the head, GALLE F.

Reverse. A crocodile chained to a palm-tree, type copied from the ancient coins of Nismes, with the heads of Augustus and Agrippa.
GALLE. Exergue. DENON DIREXIT. (P.M.)

20. Plate VII. Head of General Buonaparte, front face, with a crown of laurel. J. JOUANNIN F. DENON D.

Reverse. General Buonaparte in ancient costume, standing in a triumphal car drawn by two camels, richly caparisoned, and passing between the Pillar of Pompey and the Obelisk called Cleopatra's Needle, Victory, hovering over the car, presents a laurel crown and palm-branch to the Conqueror. Exergue. L'EGYPTE CONQUISE MDCCXCVIII.
BRENET F. DENON D. (P.M.)

21. Plate XXV. BONUS EVENTUS. The god Bonus Eventus represented as on Roman coins. Exergue. GALLE F.

Reverse. Two frigates in full sail; at a distance several other vessels, English cruizers. Exergue. ARRIVÉE A FREJUS. XVII VEND<sup>RE</sup>
AN VIII. (P.M.)

General Bonaparte, on his return from Egypt, having escaped the vigilance of the English cruizers, landed at Frejus the 9th of October, 1799.

*21. Plate XXXVIII. BUONAPARTE LIBERATEUR DE L'EGYPTE.
Bust of Gen. Bonaparte.

Reverse. LE HEROS RENDU À SA PATRIE. Mercury, with a caduceus and a scroll, takes his flight from Egypt, indicated by the pyramids. Exergue. JETTON, 1799.

Jetton of potin or bell-metal, struck on the same occasion as the preceding medal.

22. Plate XIII. BONAPARTE NÉ A AJACCIO LE 15 AOÛT 1769.
Bust of General Bonaparte in uniform. Underneath, ANDRIEU F.

Reverse. Inscription in a wreath of laurel, PREMIER CONSUL DE LA REPUBLIQUE FRANÇAISE IV NIVOSE AN. VIII.

The Consular Government, of which Bonaparte was the chief, was installed on the 25th of December, 1799 (4th Nivose).

23. Plate VII. Victory, holding in one hand a palm-branch, with the other hand guides two horses in full speed over the rugged summit of a mountain; instead of her car, the Goddess stands on a cannon placed on a sledge: alluding to the manner in which the artillery was conveyed over the Alps. Exergue. L'ARMÉE FRANÇAISE PASSE LE S<sup>T</sup>. BERNARD. XXVIII. FLORÉAL AN VIII. MDCCC. DUBOIS F. DE-NON D.

Reverse. BATAILLE DE MARENGO. Eleven keys suspended on a ring. On each side, a palm-branch. Exergue. XXV PRAIRIAL, AN VIII. MDCCC. (P. M.)

The Passage of Mount St. Bernard took place on the 18th of May, and the Battle of Marengo on the 14th of June, 1800. The eleven keys allude to the number of fortresses surrendered to the French Army, by the Convention concluded the day after the battle.

24. Plate VII. BONAPARTE PRIMUS CONSUL, ANNO VIII.
Head of the First Consul. Underneath, LAVY.

Reverse. XII MUNITISSIMIS OPPIDIS UNA DIE AD DEDITIONEM COACTIS. "12 strong places compelled to surrender in one day."

Hercules, having triumphed over his enemies, and erected a trophy of his victories, takes Italy by the hand, and raises her from her abject situation. Victory, standing near the trophy, inscribes on a shield, HOSTIBUS PROPÈ MARENGUM FUSIS. "Enemies routed at Marengo." On the right, a distant view of the Alps, on the summit of which appears the rising sun, and in its disk the star of Bonaparte. A APP. INV. L. F. (Lavy Fecit.) Exergue. REPUBLICA CISALPINA RESTITUTA. "Cisalpine Republic Restored."

Medal executed at Milan, from the design of the celebrated painter Appiani. The 12 strong places surrendered to the French army were, Tortona, Alexandria, Milan, Turin, Pizzighitone, Ancona, Piacenza, Coni, Ceva, Savona, Genoa, and Fort Urban.

25. Plate VIII. BONAPARTE PREMIER CONSUL DE LA REPUBLIQUE FRANÇ<sup>se</sup>. Bust of the First Consul in uniform. On the lower part, BRENET. Exergue. BATAILLE DE MARENGO, 25 ET 26 PRAIRIAL, AN 8.—II. AUGUSTE.

Reverse. Inscription in the field: LE PREMIER CONSUL COMMANDANT L'ARMÉE DE RÉSERVE EN PERSONNE: ENFANS. RAPPELEZ VOUS QUE MON HABITUDE EST DE COUCHER SUR LE CHAMP DE BATAILLE. (P. M.)

This Medal was struck by II. Auguste, to commemorate the victory of Marengo. The inscription on the reverse relates the harangue of the First Consul to his army at the commencement of the action.

26. Plate VIII. L<sup>rs</sup>. CH. ANT<sup>e</sup> DESAIX, NÉ À AYAT EN AOUT, 1768. Bust of General Desaix in uniform. On the lower part, BRENET. Underneath, BATAILLE DE MARENGO. 25 PRAIRIAL, AN 8.—II. AUGUSTE. A wreath of laurel encircles the whole.

Medal intended to commemorate the escape of the First Consul from the attempt made against his life, by means of the Infernal Machine, as he was going to the Opera, on the 24th of December, 1800.

36. Plate XVI. BONAPARTE REIP ITAL. PRÆSES. Head of Bonaparte. Behind it, a star. Under the head, L. M. initials of Luigi Manfredini.

Reverse. DUX TUTUS AB INSIDIIS. "The Chief is secure from ambushes." The three Fates represented with wings, and seated on the clouds, hold a distaff and thread. Destiny, figured as an old man, sits near them, his eyes fixed on the fatal thread. In his right hand he holds the scissars, but turned in an opposite direction to the Fates, signifying, that the moment for cutting the thread is not yet come. His left foot rests on a globe, and on his knee is an urn, of which he conceals the opening with his hand.

The type of this Medal, executed at Milan, from the designs of M. Appiani, is allegorical to the same event as the preceding No.

37. Plate XXII. REPUBLIQUE FRANÇAISE. In the field, PREMIER CONSUL BONAPARTE, DEUX<sup>ME</sup>. CONS<sup>L</sup>. CAMBACERES, TROIS<sup>ME</sup>. CONS<sup>L</sup>. LEBRUN.

Reverse. A LA FIDÉLITÉ. A wreath of laurel.

* 56. Plate XVII. Fame sounding a trumpet, and carrying palm-branches, and wreaths of laurel, flying over the globe. DUVIVIER.

Reverse. A laurel wreath, with the field plain, to receive an inscription. The origin and intention of this Medal have not been ascertained; it was probably intended as a premium.

57. Plate XVII. SPES BONAM CERTAMQUE DOMUM REPORTO. HOR. (Carm. Seculare vers. 74.) The Genius of Arts and Commerce presents to the Cisalpine Republic a tablet, on which is inscribed COS. ITALIC. (Italian Constitution.) By the side of the Republic is the Genius of Justice holding a balance. In the back ground, a view of Milan and of the Alps. Exergue. COMIZI CISALPINI IN LIONE A. X. On the base LMF. initials of Manfredini.

Reverse. VOTI PUBBLICI PER LA PROSPERITÀ ETERNA DELLA REPUBBLICA ITALICA ASSICURATA COLLA COSTITUZIONE AUSPICE BONAPARTE.

This Medal alludes to the Assembly called Consulta, held at Lyons when the Cisalpine Republic, assuming the name of Italian Republic, received its definitive organization. The Consulta was convoked on the 12th of Nov. 1801. The 11th of January following, the First Consul arrived at Lyons, and the new Constitution, by which he was named President, was decreed on the 26th of January, 1802.

The first Medals struck on this occasion bear on the reverse, CISALPINA instead of ITALICA: and on the tablet held by a genius, is inscribed COS. CIS. instead of COS. ITALIC. These are of course very rare.

58. Plate XVIII. LEGES MUNERA PACIS. "Laws the gifts of Peace." Head of Bonaparte, on the lower part. MERCIÉ F. LUG.

Reverse. AUSPICE BONAPARTE INTER GALLOS GALLORUM NEPOTES CISALPINI ANTIQUM FOEDUS RENOVANTES GENTEM SUAM LEGIBUS CONDIDERUNT, LUGDUNDI ANNO X. REIP. GAL. "Under the auspices of Bonaparte, the Cisalpines, descendants of the Gauls, renew the ancient Alliance that existed among Gauls, and constitute their nation by laws. Lyons, 10th year of the French Republic."

Medal struck on the same occasion as the preceding by the City of Lyons, and given to each member of the Italian Consulta, as a token of hospitality.

59. Plate XXXVIII. ANTIQUA ITALORUM RESPUBLIC RESUSCITATA. A. VI. A NAPOLEONE BONAPARTE. "Antient Italian Republic restored in the sixth year by Napoleon Bonaparte." Bust of the First Consul.

Reverse. PUBLICA RES ALIO PRODUCIT SIDERE VITAM. "The Republic extends its existence by another star." A landscape illuminated by the rays of the sun. Exergue. SUMMA POPULI IN TRIBUS COLLEGIIS POTESTAS. "The supreme power of the people invested in three Colleges."

The Institution of three electoral Colleges, and the appointment of the members that composed them, were the first objects of the Consulta. This Medal was struck at Lyons on the occasion.

60. Plate XXVII. Head of the First Consul. Underneath, ANDRIEU F.

Reverse. A young man with the toga and bulla, distinctive ornament of the young Patricians at Rome, sits reading attentively a volume unrolled. Near him is a case called Scrinium, in which books were kept. Before him, is a palm branch, reward of literary merit, and over his head, the star of Napoleon. On the cubic base, which serves as a seat, is inscribed, DENON DIREXIT. JEUFFROY FECIT. Exergue. L'AN IV. DE BONAPARTE L'INSTRUCTION PUB<sup>l</sup>. EST ORGANISÉE. (P. M.)

61. Plate XXIX. NAPOLEON BONAPARTE PREMIER CONSUL. Bust of the First Consul. On the lower part of the bust, ANDRIEU FECIT.

Reverse. RETABLISSEMENT DU CULTE. Religion sitting in a mournful attitude near a church in ruins; her attributes, a book of prayers, crucifix, and shrine, are lying on the ground. France, represented as a female figure, holding in one hand the symbol of Wisdom, a mirror, in which a serpent views itself; with the other, assists Religion to rise. In the back ground, a shield and sword suspended on the consular fasces, indicate the return of Peace; a cock, emblem of Vigilance, stands on the top of the shield. On the left hand, the church of Notre Dame, in Paris. Exergue. LE XVIII GERMINAL AN X. ANDRIEU FECIT. (P. M.)

On the 18th April, 1802, (18 Germinal) the Concordat between France and the court of Rome was sanctioned by the Legislative Body, and the law respecting the organization of public worship was passed.

62. Plate XXVI. NAPOLEON BONAPARTE, PREMIER CONSUL

DE LA REP. F. Bust of the First Consul. Above, a star. Underneath, DUPRÉ.

Reverse. A JEANNE D'ARC. MONUMENT RETABLI À ORLEANS L'AN XI DE LA REP<sup>QUE</sup>. Statue of Jeanne d'Arc, on a pedestal ornamented with bas-reliefs, and inscribed, À JEANNE D'ARC. In the field, J. M. CHAPTAL M<sup>TR</sup>. DE L'INT<sup>R</sup>. J. P MARET. PREFET. A. E. CRIGNON DESORMEAUX MAIRE. GOIS FILS INV. DUPRÉ SCULP.

During the period of revolutionary fury, the monument erected at Orleans in honour of Jeanne d'Arc was destroyed; and the festival celebrated annually, on the day of the delivery of the city, by her valour, was abolished.

The present Medal records the re-establishment of the monument, and of the annual ceremony in 1803, by order of the 1st Consul.

63. Plate XIII. AU PREMIER CONSUL BONAPARTE, VAINQ<sup>R</sup>. PACIFIC<sup>R</sup>. MARSEILLE RECONNOISSANTE. Bust of the First Consul. POIZE F. under the bust, CAMBACÉRÈS ET LEBRUN 2<sup>E</sup>. ET 3<sup>E</sup>. CONSULS. CHAPTAL. MIN<sup>E</sup>. DE L'INT<sup>R</sup>.

*77. Plate XXX. Same head as the preceding.

Reverse. Another view of the same Museum; over the entrance, SALLE DE L'APOLLON. Exergue. MUSÉE NAPOLEON. DENON DIRECTEUR. ANDRIEU F. (P.M.)

There are some Medals without the head of Napoleon, and having on each side one of the views of the Museum.

78. Plate XXXI. Head of Bonaparte crowned with laurel. ANDRIEU F.

Reverse. AUSPICE NAPOLEONE GALLIA RENOVATA. "Under the auspices of Napoleon, France renovated." The Star of the legion of honour, encircled by a wreath of laurel and oak. In the centre of the star, a circle, in which is an eagle holding a thunderbolt, with the motto. HONNEUR ET PATRIE. Exergue. DENON DIREX. JALEY F. (P.M.)

Medal intended to commemorate the creation of the Order of the Legion of Honour, by a decree of the Legislative Body, of the 19th April, 1802.

79. Plate XXIII. NÂPOLEON EMPEREUR. Laurelled head of Napoleon. Exergue. DENON DIREX. ANDRIEU F.

Reverse. Mont Blanc represented as an old man of colossal size, blind with age, in a crouching attitude, holding before him enormous rocks, from whence two rivers flow, and his head involved in the clouds. In the rock under his right hand, is a cavern, where two miners are at work. BRENET. F. DENON D. Exergue. ECOLE DES MINES DU MONT BLANC. (P.M.)

A few Medals in silver, bear on the edge, ARGENT DES MINES DE PESEY, AN XIII.

This Medal commemorates the establishment of a School of Mineralogy, in the Department of Mont Blanc. The figure of Mont Blanc is imitated from the statue of the Appennine, that is seen in the garden of Pratolino, near Florence, and is commonly attributed to Michael Angelo.

80. Plate XXXI. HONNEUR LEGIONAIRE AUX BRAVES DES ARMÉES. The Emperor laureated, and sitting in a curule chair on a suggestus, distributes the decorations of the Legion of Honour to four soldiers of different corps; behind the Emperor are two attendants holding the decorations to be distributed. Exergue. À BOULOGNE LE

Reverse. EN L'AN XII LE CODE CIVIL EST DÉCRÉTÉ. Figure of the Minerva of Velletri, taken from the statue in the Museum of the Louvre. BRENET F. DENON D. (P.M.)

The code Napoleon was terminated in 1804. The 24th March, 1804, the Legislative Body, previous to its adjournment, decreed, that a statue of Napoleon should be erected in the middle of the hall of its sittings, as a testimony of the public gratitude for the new code. This statue, executed by Chaudet, is represented on the obverse of the present Medal.

There is a different die of this medal, in which the head of the statue is front-faced.

83. Plate XXXII. NAPOLEON EMPEREUR. Laureated head.
DENON DIR. ANDRIEU F.

Reverse. LE SENAT ET LE PEUPLE. Napoleon, in his imperial robes, holding a sceptre and the sword of Charlemagne, is elevated on a shield, supported by two figures, representing the senate and the people. Behind the former is a book inscribed LOIS. Behind the latter a plough. Exergue. AN XIII. DENON. DIR. JEUFFROY F. (P.M.)

84. 85. 86. Plate XXXII. Same head and reverse, of three different sizes.

Medals of the four different sizes described, were struck to commemorate the coronation of Napoleon, which took place on the 2d of December, 1804. Those of the third first sizes, in gold and silver, were given to persons who assisted at the ceremony, according to their rank. The small medals were thrown by the heralds among the people. As great numbers of medals were struck on this occasion, dies engraved by different artists were used.

87. Plate XXXI. PIUS VII P. M. HOSPES NEAPOLIONIS IMP.
“Pius VII. Sovereign Pontif. guest of the Emperor Napoleon.” Bust of the Pope, with the triple tiara, and his pontifical robes.

104. Plate XXXIV. Same head and inscription as No. 103.

Reverse. Napoleon on horseback, haranguing his army on a bridge. Victory descending, presents a palm-branch and laurel crown to Napoleon. Under the bridge, a river god holding an urn inscribed LECH: Exergue. ALLOCUTION A L'ARMÉE, L'ARMÉE FAIT SERMENT DE VAINCRE, XII OCTOBRE MDCCCV. DENON DIR. (P.M.)

105. Plate XXXIV. Same head and inscription as No. 103.

Reverse. The Emperor in a car drawn by two horses with great rapidity, is crowned by Victory. Under the horses, are two turreted female figures, kneeling in a suppliant attitude. Exergue. XVII OCTOBRE MDCCCV. CAPITULATION D'ULM. DE MEMMINGEN, LX MILLE PRISONNIERS. JALEY F. DEN. DIR. (P.M.)

106. Plate XXXIV. Same head and inscription as No. 103.

Reverse. Two female figures, representing Vienna and Presbourg, kneeling, present the keys of the cities to Napoleon, represented as Hercules. Exergue. PRISE DE VIENNE ET DE PRESBOURG, MDCCCV. DENON D. GALLE F. (P.M.)

107. Plate XXXIV. NAPOLEO I. GALL. IMP. ITAL. REX. GERMANICUS RUTHENICUS. Head of Napoleon, with a helmet richly ornamented. On the lower part of the head, L. M. initials of Lingi Manfredini.

Reverse. VINDOBONA CAPTA, ANNO MDCCCV. "Vienna taken." A female figure sitting on the ground in an attitude of profound grief, near a trophy of Austrian spoils. Exergue. MEDIOLANI.

Medal struck at Milan, to celebrate the capture of Vienna.

108. Plate XXXIV. Same head and inscription as No. 103.

Reverse. Napoleon clad in armour, holding in one hand a figure of Victory, and in the other, a standard surmounted by a figure of Jupiter, and inscribed N. In the field, LES AUTRICHIENS VAINCUS. LES DRAPEAUX FRANÇAIS REPRIS. BRENET F. DENON D. Exergue. INSPRUCK LE XVI BRUMAIRE AN XIV. MDCCCV. (P.M.)

109. Plate XXXIV. Same head and inscription as No. 103.

Reverse. BATAILLE D'AUSTERLITZ. Thunderbolt, on its summit is a small statue of Napoleon, holding a globe and sceptre. Underneath, II DEC. MDCCCV. XI FRIM. AN XIV. JALEY F. (P.M.)

This is the last medal of the series, on which mention is made of the Republican calendar, established by a decree of the Convention the 5th of October, 1793, for the execrable purpose of effacing all traces of Christianity in France. By a decree of the Senate of the 9th of September, 1805, to be in force on the 1st of January, 1806, this calendar was abolished.

110. Plate XXXV. BATAILLE D'AUSTERLITZ. Laureated head of Napoleon. On the lower part, ANDRIEU F. Underneath, II DECEMBRE MDCCCV.

Reverse. ALEXANDRE I. FRANCOIS II. Opposite heads of the two Emperors. ANDRIEU F. DENON D. (P.M.)

111. Plate XXXV. Same head and inscription as No. 103.

Reverse. The Emperor Napoleon, and the Emperor Francis II. are represented standing and conversing. Between them is a French standard, inscribed N. and two standards are lying on the ground at their feet. Exergue. ENTREVUE DE L'EMP. NAPOLEON ET DE L'EMP. FRANCOIS II. A URCHITZ LE IV. DECEMBRE MDCCCV. ANDRIEU F. DENON D. (P.M.)

112. Plate XXXVII. PANNONIA SUBACTA. “Pannonia subdued.” The Emperor Napoleon in armour, crowned with laurel, and holding a branch of the same, stands on a platform (suggestus) and receives the congratulatory address of the two Mayors of the city of Paris. Behind Napoleon is Prince Murat, clad in armour. Under the platform is a Nymph reclining on her urn, which is inscribed SCHOENBRUNN. Under the Mayors, GALLE F. Exergue. AEDILES PARIS IMP NEAPOLIONI A VICTORIA REDVCI IN SVBVRBANO CAESARVM GRATES AGVNT. PR. ID. DECEMBR. MDCCCV. “The Mayors of Paris congratulate the Emperor Napoleon on his return victorious in the suburban villa of the Cæsars, 11th December, 1805.”

Reverse. DE GERMANIS. Over the Germanis, Fame advancing with rapid motion, sounding a trumpet and bearing a scroll, on which is inscribed, IMP VRBI SVAE. “The Emperor to his city.” On the ground are standards, cannon, and other military spoils. BRENET F. Exergue. PRIMITIAE BELLII ARMA ET SIGNA MILITARIA E MANVBIIS VERTINGENS CIVITATI DONATA VI ID OCT. MDCCCV. “The first fruits of war, arms and standards from the spoils of Vertingen, presented to the city the 10th of October, 1805. (P.M.)

On the 11th of December, 1805, a deputation from the Prefect and Mayors of Paris, presided by M. Duport, sent to congratulate the Emperor Napoleon on the success of the campaign, was received by him in the palace of Schoenbrun, the summer residence of the Emperor of Austria, about two miles distant from Vienna.

The reverse alludes to the affair of the 8th of October, at Westirgon, a small town, fourteen miles distant from Augsbourgh, and thirty from Ulm; where Prince Murat defeated and made prisoners twelve battalions of Austrian grenadiers, with all their artillery, baggage, &c. On the 10th of the same month the Emperor wrote to the Prefect and Mayors of Paris, informing them of the victory, and presenting to the city of Paris the eight standards and two pieces of the cannon taken in the action; adding, that he hoped the present would be more acceptable to the inhabitants, as it was the result of a victory obtained by the Governor of Paris.

113. Plate XXXV. Obverse. Same as No. 103.

Reverse. Temple of Janus quadriformis dedicated by Augustus in the Forum. On the summit is a bust of Janus, and on the pediment, TEMPLUM JANI. Exergue. PAIX DE PRESBOURG XXVI DECEMBRE MDCCCV. ANDRIEU F. DENON D<sup>R</sup>. (P.M.)

114. Plate XXXIV. Obverse. Same as No. 103.

Reverse. ACTIONS DE GRACES POUR LA PAIX. Perspective view of the cathedral church of St. Stephen, in Vienna, where Te Deum was sung on the conclusion of the treaty of Presbourg. DENON D. ANDRIEU F. Exergue. ORDONNÉES A VIENNE PAR L'EMPEREUR NAPOLEON LE XXVIII. DE DECEMBRE MDCCCV. (P.M.)

115. Plate XXXV. Obverse. Same as No. 103.

Reverse. Bridge of Rialto at Venice; above, a Gondola and two fishes. Exergue. VENISE RENDUE A L'ITALIE, XXVI DECEMBRE MDCCCV. BRENET F. DENON D. (P.M.)

V. FELICITER. "Napoleon Academy founded at Lucca in the year 1805, under happy auspices." A laurel wreath, in the centre, DIONIORIBUS MUNERANDIS. "A reward to the most deserving."

Premium medal of the Academy of the Fine Arts of Lucca, of the most beautiful execution by Santarelli.

Princess Eliza, sister of Napoleon, and her husband, Felix Bacciochi, were made sovereigns of Lucca and Piombino, in the year 1805.

117. Plate XVIII. NAPOLEO IMPERATOR ET REX. AN II. MDCCCV. Laureated head. Underneath, ANDRIEU F.

Reverse. PONTEM RHODANI FELICIORE SITU RESTITUIT. "He rebuilds the bridge over the Rhone in a more eligible situation." View of a bridge; on one side, part of the city of Avignon and the palace of the Popes; on the other side, part of the town of Villeneuve. At the foot of the bridge is a trophy in honour of the Emperor; Victory, hovering in the air, bears a palm-branch, and points to the new bridge. ANDRIEU F. Exergue. J. B. CHAMPAGNI PRIMARIO REGIM. INT. ADMINISTRO. M. A. BOURDON VALCL. PRAEFECTO. "J. B. Champagny, Minister of the Interior. M. A. Bourdon, Prefect of Vacluse."

The bridge over the Rhone, uniting the two cities of Avignon and Villeneuve, and the two departments of Vacluse and of the Gard, had been carried away by the violence of the river. It was rebuilt in a more eligible situation in 1805; on which occasion the present medal was engraved by order of the inhabitants of Avignon.

118. Plate XXXV. Obverse. Same as No. 103.

Reverse. TEMPLE D'AUGUSTE A POLA. The front of a temple ornamented with four Corinthian columns. On the frieze, ROMÆ ET CÆSARI AUGUSTO. BRENET F. DENON D. Exergue. L'ISTRIE CONQUISE AN MDCCCVI. (P.M.)

The province of Istria was ceded to France by the treaty of Presbourg. The temple represented is that still seen at Pola.

119. Plate XXXV. Obverse. Same as No. 103.

Reverse. TEMPLE DE JUPITER A SPALATRO. BRENET F. DENON D. A temple of octagon form, surrounded by a colonnade. Exergue. LA DALMATIE CONQUISE EN MDCCCVI PAR LA PAIX DE PRESBOURG. (P.M.)

Dalmatia was also ceded to France by the treaty of Presbourg.

120. Plate XXXV. Obverse. Same as No. 103.

Reverse. A bull with a human head, crowned by a winged female figure. Under the bull, a head of Vulcan. BRENET F. DENON D. Exergue. CONQUETE DE NAPLES, MDCCCVI. (P.M.)

The type of the reverse is taken from the ancient coins of the city of Naples. The head of Vulcan, under the bull, alludes to the volcano of Vesuvius. The French army entered Naples on the 15th February, 1806, under the command of Prince Joseph, afterwards made king.

121. Plate XXXV. Obverse. Same as No. 103.

Reverse. The imperial throne supported by eagles; on it, is placed the sceptre and mantle; before it, a table, on which are several crowns and sceptres. Three crowns are lying on the ground, at the foot of the table. In the air, is an eagle holding the fasces, Exergue. SOUVERAINETÉS DONNÉES MDCCCVI. ANDRIEU F. DENON D. (P.M.)

The 16th of February, 1806, Napoleon adopted as his son Prince Eugene Beauharnois, and declared him heir to the throne of Italy, in case of failure of male issue. The 4th of March, he adopted a niece of the Empress Josephine, and gave her in marriage to the Electoral Prince of Baden. The 20th March, Prince Joachim Murat was created Grand Duke of Cleves and Berg. The 30th March, Joseph Napoleon was declared King of Naples. The Dutchy of Guastalla was given to Princess Pauline Borghese, and the principality of Neufchatel to Berthier. The 5th of June, Louis was proclaimed King of Holland, Talleyrand Prince of Benevento, and Bernadotte, Prince of Ponte Corvo.

The crowns thrown on the ground allude to the expulsion of the kings of Naples and Sardinia from their dominions, and the destruction of the Doge of Venice.

122. Plate XXXV. Obverse. Same as No. 103.

Reverse. Two figures joining hands. Behind the one, C. F. LOUIS DE BADE. Behind the other, STÉPHANIE NAPOLEON. Over their heads, the letter  $\kappa$ , surrounded with rays. Exergue. ALLIANCE. MDCCCVI. ANDRIEU F. DENON D. (P.M.)

Medal to commemorate the marriage of the Prince of Baden with a niece of the Empress Josephine, on the 7th of April, 1806.

123. Plate XXXVI. Obverse. Same as No. 103.

Reverse. COLONNE DE LA GRANDE ARMÉE. Column surmounted by a statue of Napoleon, and two buildings. Exergue. CAMPAGNE DE MDCCCV. BRENET F. DENON D. (P.M.)

This column, made with the brass cannon taken in the campaign of 1805, was erected in the place Vendôme in Paris, as a monument to the glory of the Grand Army.

124. Plate XXXVI. Obverse. Same as No. 103.

Reverse. View of the triumphal arch erected on the Carousel before the palace of the Tuileries. On the summit, Napoleon in a car drawn by the four celebrated antique horses taken from Venice. On the frieze, NAPOLEON I. EMPEREUR DES FRANÇAIS ET ROI D'ITALIE. Exergue. AUX ARMÉES. MDCCCVI. BRENET. F. FONTAINE ARC. DENON D. (P.M.)

125. Plate XXXVI. NAPOLEON EMP. ET ROI. Bust of the Emperor in uniform of the national guard. Over his head, a laurel wreath. Underneath, DENON D. DEPAULIS F.

Reverse. The Emperor, in his robes of state, receiving the tables of the law, presented by a Jewish Rabbin kneeling before him. Behind the Emperor, DUPRES. Exergue. GRAND SANHEDRIN. XXX MAI MDCCCVI.

A general meeting of the Jews from all parts of Europe was appointed by a decree of Napoleon, in date of the 30th of May, and assembled on the 20th of October following, under the name of Sanhedrin.

The dies for this medal, intended to commemorate that event, were prepared from the designs of M. Denon; but were never used. In the year 1815, they fell into the hands of some private persons, who have had medals struck from them.

The figure of the Rabbin, with horns on the forehead and a long beard, is imitated from the statue of Moses, by Michael Angelo.

126. Plate XXXVI. Laureated head of Napoleon. Underneath, JEUFFROY F. DENON DIREXIT.

Reverse. DESCENTE EN ANGLETERRE. Hercules raising from the ground, and strangling in his arms a figure, half man and half fish. Exergue. FRAPPÉE A LONDRES EN 1804.

It is generally supposed that Napoleon never had a real intention to invade England, and that all his demonstrations to that effect, were feints to cover other designs. It would, however, appear from this medal, which could only have been executed under his immediate orders, that he not only intended to attempt an invasion, but that with his usual confidence in his fortune, he considered himself certain of success. What the events were, that induced him to lay aside the project, we have yet to learn from history. An article in the Monitor of the 19th of April, 1804, which, from its style, is easily known to have been written by Napoleon himself, was published probably at the same time as the present Medal, and may serve to fix its precise date, and that of the intended invasion.

127. Plate XXXVI. NAPOLEON EMP. ET ROI. Laureated head of the Emperor. On the lower part, DROZ F. Underneath, DENON DIREXIT. MDCCCVI.

Reverse. TOTO DIVISOS ORBE BRITANNOS. (Virgil Eclog. i. vers. 67.) Same type as the preceding. Exergue. DENON D. JEUFROY FF. 1806.

When the projected invasion was relinquished, the die of the preceding medal became useless, but after the decrees of Milan and Berlin, which declared the British isles in a state of blockade, the inscription was altered. From reasons which cannot be now ascertained, few medals from this die were struck, and they were never sold.

128. Plate XVI. BRVNIUS REIP. GALL. A CONSILIIS. SVPR. ITAL. COPIAR DVX ANNO IX. "Brune, Ambassador from the French Republic, Commander-in-Chief of the Army of Italy." Bust of Marshal Brune. On the lower part, SALVIRCH F.

MEDALLIC HISTORY

---

---

PART II.

From 1806 to 1815.

---

201. Plate XL. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. Fourteen German Princes, in national armour and crowned, are assembled round the fasces surmounted by the Imperial Eagle, and swear fidelity to the new Confederation. In the middle, is the Arch-Chancellor, created Prince Primate, with the insignia of his ecclesiastical dignity. Exergue. CONFÉDÉRATION DU RHIN MDCCCVI. BRENET. DENON D. (P.M.)

The Confederation of the Rhine, of which Napoleon was named Protector, was signed at Paris, on the 12th of July 1806, by the Ministers of the different Princes who acceded to it.

202. Plate XL. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. Napoleon represented as Jupiter, sitting on an eagle in the midst of clouds, and hurling his thunder against the giants who attempted to invade heaven. Exergue. BATAILLE D'JENA MDCCCVI. DENON D. GALLE F. (P.M.)

203. Plate XL. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. BORUSSI DIDICERE NUPER.* Napoleon on horseback, in the costume of a Roman warrior, and preceded by an eagle, trampling over the bodies of two enemies. ANDRIEU F. Exergue. EXERCITU AD IENAM DELETO XIV OCTOB. MDCCCVI. "Army destroyed at Jena, October the 14th 1806." (P.M.)

204. Plate XL. NAPOLEO GALL. IMP. ITAL. REX GERM. RUTH. BORUSSICUS. Head of Napoleon, with the iron crown and a wreath of laurel. On the lower part, L. M. Luigi Manfredini. Underneath, MEDIO- LANI MDCCCVI.

Reverse. SAXONIA LIBERATA BORUSSIS DELETIS. "Saxony delivered; the Prussians destroyed." Jupiter, seated on an eagle perched on the thunder, holds in one hand a sceptre, and with the other brandishes the thunder. Underneath, IENAE. (P.M.)

Medal struck at Milan, to commemorate the battle of Jena.

205. Plate XL. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. PORTE DE BRANDEBOURG. The gate of Brandebourg at Berlin, with the Propylæa. On the centre of the gate, a triumphal car. Exergue. L'EMPEREUR ENTRE À BERLIN LE XXVII OCTOBRE MDCCCVI. DENON D. JALEY F. (P.M.)

206. Plate XI. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. Four turreted female figures, looking up and viewing Napoleon carried on an eagle with the thunder in its talons, are terrified at the sight, and let fall the keys of their cities. JEUFFROY F. DE-* Vindelici didicere nuper.—Hor. lib. iv. Od. 13.

NON DIR. Exergue. CAPITULATION DE SPANDAU, STETTIN, MAGDEBOURG, ET CUSTRIN. MDCCCVI. (P.M.)

After the battle of Jena, the commanders of the four cities mentioned in the inscription, were seized with a panic, and surrendered to the French army without resistance. The strong fortress of Magdebourg, with 20 generals, a garrison of 22,000 men, and 800 pieces of cannon, capitulated on the 8th of November, after a short bombardment.

207. Plate XL. NAPOLEON EMP. CHARLEMAGNE EMP. Busts united, in profile, of Napoleon with a wreath of laurel, and of Charlemagne with a crown. On the base of the head of Napoleon, ANDRIEU F. Underneath, DENON DIR. AN MDCCCVI.

Reverse. WITIKIND R.S. (Rex Saxonie.) FREDERIC AUG. R.S. Busts united in profile of Witikind and of the King of Saxony. ANDRIEU F. DENON DIR. AN MDCCCVI. (P.M.)

Witikind was created first Duke of Saxony by Charlemagne: Napoleon, who frequently styled himself a successor of Charlemagne, was anxious to recal to memory this event, as affording him a right of sovereignty over Saxony. Hence, the heads of Charlemagne and Witikind are joined to those of Napoleon and Frederic Augustus on this Medal, intended to commemorate the alliance between France and Saxony, and the elevation of the Elector to the Regal Dignity.

208. Plate XL. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. OCCUPATION D'HAMBOURG. Turreted female sitting on a galley, holding in one hand a cornucopia, and the other hand leaning on a rudder. Exergue. MDCCCVI. DENON DIRECT. GEORGE F. (P.M.)

The French army entered the city of Hamburgh on the 9th of November 1806, and seized all British property and objects of British manufacture. In 1810 it was incorporated with France, and became the chief city of the Department of the Elbe. V. No. 271.

209. Plate LIII. CHARLES FR. LOUIS. STEPHANIE NAP. UNIS SOUS LES LAURIERS. The arms of France and Baden, encircled by two branches of laurel. Between the arms, a flaming torch.

Reverse. S. A. E. CHARLES PRINCE DE BADE VISITE LA MONNAIE DE PARIS 5 APRIL 1806. On the edge, BALANCIER À VIROLE ADOPTÉ EN 1803.

Struck on the visit of the Prince of Baden to the Mint at Paris: for his marriage, see No. 122.

210. Plate LIII. MAXIMIL JOS. ROI DE BAVIERE. Bust of the King of Bavaria. Underneath, TIOLIER, F.

Reverse. S. A. R. LOUIS CH. AUGUSTE PRINCE DE BAVIERE, VISITE LA MONNAIE DE PARIS, 3 MARS 1806. On the edge, BALANCIER À VIROLE ADOPTÉ EN 1803.

211. Plate XLI. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. The Nymph of the Vistula, leaning on a rudder, lies weeping, and in an afflicted attitude, at the sight of a French standard erected on her banks. At a distance, two lofty mountains. Exergue. SIGNIS ULTRA VISTULAM CONSTITUTIS, MDCCCVII. BRENET F. DENON D. "French standards displayed beyond the Vistula." (P.M.)

212. Plate XLI. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. VICTORIÆ MANENTI. "To Victory still constant." The Emperor, represented as Diomedes, on an ancient intaglio, is seated on a heap of military spoils, holding in one hand a sword, and in the other a statue of Victory. BRENET F. Exergue. BATAILLE DE PREUSS EYLAU VIII FEVRIER MDCCCVII. (P.M.)

213. Plate XLI. NAPOLEON A OSTERODE. Laureated head of Napoleon. Underneath, ANDRIEU F. DENON D.

Reverse. FABIVS CUNCTATOR. Head of Fabius Maximus. Underneath, DENON D. (P.M.)

After the battle of Preuss Eylau, the army having suffered a great loss, Napoleon remained several months inactive in his position of Osterode, expecting reinforcements from France. His conduct on this occasion was compared to that of Fabius, surnamed Cunctator.

214. Plate XLI. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. The Emperor, in his imperial robes, raises from the ground a female figure, representing the city of Dantzic, who is kneeling before him; and places a mural crown on her head. In the field, on one side, a caduceus; on the other an acrostolium: emblems of Commerce and Navigation. ANDRIEU F. DENON DIR. Exergue. LIBERTAS DANTISCO RESTITUTA. "Liberty restored to Dantzic." MDCCCVII. (P.M.)

Medal commemorating the surrender of Dantzic, after a long siege, on the 28th of May, 1807.

215. Plate XLI. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. Napoleon represented as a Greek hero, surrounded with dead bodies of the enemy lying on the ground, replacing his sword in the scabbard. On one side, an olive-branch; on the other, the torch of Discord inverted and expiring. GALLE F. Exergue. BATAILLE DE FRIEDLAND XIV JUIN MDCCCVI. (P.M.)

216. Plate XLI. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. Victory stands near an altar, holding a shield, on which she has written, XIV JUIN MARENGO ET FRIEDLAND. Near the altar, a branch of laurel. Exergue. BRENET F. DENON D. (P.M.)

This Medal and the preceding, commemorate the battle of Friedland, which took place on the same day as that of Marengo, in 1800.

217. Plate XLI. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. BERLIN. VARSOVIE. KOENIGSBERG. Three female figures turreted, holding keys. Group imitated from a bas-relief of the Villa Borghese. DENON DIR. GEORGE F. Exergue. CAMPAGNES DE MDCCCVI ET MDCCCVII. (P.M.)

218. Plate XLI. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. Victory sits before a pillar, holding a shield, on which she traces, with the point of a sword, the conquests of the Emperor. Peace, crowned with laurel, and holding an olive-branch, appears behind her, and arrests her hand. On the pillar are seven mural crowns, inscribed with the names of the cities of Silesia surrendered to the French arms: GLATZ, KOSEL, NEISSE, SCHWEIDNITZ, BRIEG, BRESLAW, GLOGAW. On the ground, at the feet of Victory, is another crown, inscribed SILBERBERG, which city had not yet fallen. ANDRIEU F. Exergue. CONQUETE DE LA SILESIE. MDCCCVII. (P.M.)

219. Plate XLI. NAPOLEON. ALEXANDRE I. F. GUILLAUME III. Heads united in profile of the Emperor Napoleon, the Emperor Alexander, and the King of Prussia. The two former laureated, the latter with a simple diadem. Underneath, ANDRIEU F. DENON DIR.

Reverse. NIEMEN. A river god, recumbent, and leaning on his urn, holds in his right hand a model of the pavilion erected on a raft in the middle of the river, where the first interview of the two Emperors took place. At the foot of the river god, is an olive-tree overshadowing the pavilion. Exergue. PAIX DE TILSIT. MDCCCVII. DENON D. DROZ F. (P.M.)

220. Plate XLIII. ALEXANDER PRIMUS. FR. WILHELM. TERTIUS. NAPOLEON PRIMUS. Heads of the Emperor Alexander and King of Prussia, united in profile, opposite to that of the Emperor Napoleon. On the outer circle, ABRAMSON.

Reverse. NUBES FUGAT, SOLEMQUE PACIS REDUCIT. "He dispels the clouds and brings back the sun of peace." The sun, rising on the ocean, dispels the clouds. Exergue. CONGRESSUS AUGG. PRO. TILSAM, MEDIO IN FLUM. NEME. D. XXVI JUN. MDCCCVII. "Interview of the Emperors near Tilsit, in the middle of the river Niemen, on the 25th of June 1807."

221. Plate XLIII. ALEXANDER I. NAPOLEON I. Opposite busts of the two Emperors. Underneath, ABRAMSON.

Reverse. NITEANT CELSI LUCIDA SIGNA POLI. "May the bright stars of the lofty pole shine resplendent." Exergue. Two stars. Same inscription as the preceding.

These two Medals were engraved at Berlin, by Mr. Abramson, to commemorate the treaty of Tilsit.

222. Plate XLIII. NAPOLEO IMP. GALL. IT. REX HOSPES DRESDAE. Bust of Napoleon. On the lower part, HÆ F. Underneath, D. XVII. JUL. MDCCCVII.

Reverse. FRID. AUGUST. REX SAXONIÆ VARSOVIÆ DUX. Bust of the King of Saxony, with the insignia of the Legion of Honour. Underneath, HÆCKNER F.

This Medal was struck by Mr. Hœckner, at Dresden, to commemorate the arrival of Napoleon in that city, on the 17th of July 1807, and his residence for several days in the palace of the King of Saxony, who had been created Grand Duke of Warsaw.

223. Plate XLII. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. PRISCA DECORA RESTITUTA. "Ancient honours restored." A chair of state, on which is placed a crown. On one side, a sword; and on the other, a sceptre. BRENET F. DENON D. Exergue. OTHO III. BOESLAO. A. MI. NEAPOLIO FRIDERICO AUG. A. MDCCCVII. "Otho III. to Boleslao in 1001. Napoleon to Frederic Augustus in 1807." (P.M.)

In the year 1001, Poland was declared independent of the German Empire, by the Emperor Otho III.; and Boleslaus was created First King of Poland. Napoleon, who pretended to have succeeded to all the rights of the Emperors of the West, in recording this event, wished to remind the Poles of their ancient obligations to the Emperors.

224. Plate XLII. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. INJECIT TANDEM FRENA VACANTI. A youth crowned with laurel, arresting an impetuous courser; device of Hanover and Brunswick, which formed a part of the kingdom of Westphalia. Exergue. ERECTION DU ROYAUME DE WESTPHALIE MDCCCVII. BRENET F. DENON D. (P.M.)

225. Plate XLII. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. Hymen forming a wreath of roses which are presented to him by Love. On the base, DENON D. Exergue. J. NAPOLEON. C. DE WURTEMBERG MDCCCVII. Under the inscription, the letter N. surrounded by rays. (P.M.)

Medal struck on the marriage of Jerome, King of Westphalia, with Princess Catharine, daughter of the King of Wurtemberg.

226. Plate XLII. Same head and inscription as No. 127.

Reverse. Two figures joining hands. Near the one, JEROME NAPOLEON ; near the other, C. S. DE WURTEMBERG. Over the figures, N. surrounded with rays. Exergue. ALLIANCE. MDCCCVII. ANDRIEU F. DENON D.

A few medals similar to the present, were struck on the marriage of the King of Westphalia ; the reverse is precisely the same as that of No. 122 (the inscription excepted), and the same punchcons were probably used.

227. Plate XLII. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. Napoleon in the costume of a Roman Emperor, extends his arm in sign of protection to Etruria, who presents to him various emblems of her ancient glory in the Sciences and Arts. Near her is an altar, against which is a lyre. BRENET F. DENON D. Exergue. RE-UNION DE L'ETRURIE A LA FRANCE MDCCCVIII. (P.M.)

228. Plate XLII. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. The Simplon represented as an old man, seated in the midst of enormous mountains, along which a road is seen winding, and numbers of troops with artillery and baggage ascending. On one of the rocks, 1807. Exergue. SIMPLON. (P.M.)

Collectors must be on their guard against a false die of this Medal.

229. Plate XLII. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. A female figure sitting on a road cut in the side of steep mountains; one of her feet touches the sea, the other is placed on the road; her right hand rests on the summit of the highest mountain, her left on a wheel. On the base, GAYRARD F. DENON D. Exergue. ROUTE DE NICE A ROME MDCCCVII. (P.M.)

The ancients personified not only moral qualities, but physical objects, such as mountains, woods, and roads. The figure of the reverse, representing the road from Nice to Rome, is in imitation of the Trajan road. (Via Trajana) on coins of that Emperor.

The road from Nice to Rome, commenced in 1807, was to have extended along the sea coast to Genoa, and from thence to Lerici, where it would have joined the road to Florence and Rome. This road would have been of great utility, in facilitating the communication between the South of France and Italy: it would have had the advantage of being practicable at all times, whereas the Simplon and even Mount Cenis are frequently obstructed by the snow.

230. Plate XLII. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. An eagle, its wings fluttering with exultation, and holding the thunder in its talons, is crowned by Victory. Underneath, the letter N. surrounded with rays. DENON D. JALEY F. (P.M.)

Medal allusive to the successes of the French arms in 1807.

231. Plate XLII. Laureated heads of Napoleon and Alexander. Underneath, FACIUS F.

Reverse. IMPERATORUM CONGRESSUS. "Congress of the Emperors." Time inscribing on a rock the transactions of the Congress, dictated to him by a Genius. On one side, a view of Erfurt, ERF. On the other, of Weimar, WIM. FACIUS F. Exergue. MDCCCVIII.

232. Plate XLIII. A view of the city of Erfurt. On the base, FACIUS F. Exergue. ERFORDIÆ, XIV OCTOBRIS MDCCCVIII.

Reverse. NAPOLEONI GRATA CIVITAS. "To Napoleon, the grateful city."

This Medal and the preceding were struck by Mr. Facius of Weimar, to commemorate the Congress of Erfurt, between the Emperor Napoleon and the Emperor Alexander.

233. Plate XLVIII. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. PRÆSENTIA DONISQUE TOLOSA FELIX. "Toulouse happy in his presence and his bounty." The city of Toulouse represented as a turreted female, holding a scroll; the Emperor, standing opposite, points to a plan laying on a table, and representing the improvements intended in the city. On the drapery which covers the table are the arms of Toulouse. ANDRIEU F. Exergue. XXV JULII MDCCCVIII.

This Medal records the visit of Napoleon to the city of Toulouse, the 25th of July 1808.

234. Plate XLII. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. PORTE DE ALCALA. View of the gate of Alcala, at Madrid. Exergue. ENTRÉE DES FRANÇAIS A MADRID, LE IV DECEMBRE. MDCCCVIII. BRENET F. DENON D. (P.M.)

235. Plate XLII. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. Napoleon in a car drawn by two horses. The Genius of the Inquisition, armed with a torch and surrounded with serpents, has endeavoured in vain to prevent his passing between the pillars of Hercules. He is fulminated by Napoleon, and in his fall overthrows one of the columns to which he clings. On the ground, are fetters and other emblems of the Inquisition. Exergue. BATAILLE DE SOMMO SIERRA. L'INQUISITION DÉTRUITE. MDCCCVIII.

The dies of this Medal were executed from the designs of M. Denon, but never used in the Paris Medal Mint, for which they were made. In 1815, they were purchased by a private person, who has had medals struck from them.

236. Plate XLVIII: NAPOLEON EMP. ET ROI. Laureated head of Napoleon. Above, a star. Before it, the thunder. Underneath, N. P. TIOLIER F.

Reverse. ACAD. IMP. DES B<sup>s</sup>. ARTS DE FRANCE A ROME. View of the Villa Medici, or Academy of France. Exergue. G. G. LETHIERE DIRECTEUR. N. P. TIOLIER F. 1808. A she wolf, with two children.

237. Plate XLIV. The Temple of Janus, the door of which is broken. ANDRIEU F. DENON D. Exergue. TRAITÉ DE PRESBOURG ROMPU PAR L'AUTRICHE. IX AVRIL MDCCCIX.

Reverse. Between two trophies of arms, ABENSBERG. ECKMUHL. The Emperor, in ancient dress, standing with his arms extended, as if in the action of haranguing. Exergue. BATAILLES DES XX ET XXII AVRIL MDCCCIX. XL. M PRISONNIERS. (P.M.)

238. Plate XLIV. NAPOLEO GALLOR IMP. ITAL. REX. PRO-

TECT. FOEDERAT RHEN. Head of Napoleon. Behind, the thunder. Underneath, H. VASSALLO F.

Reverse. AGGRESSUS MAGNUM RESCINDERE COELUM.* Enceladus overwhelmed under Mount Ætna. On the base, L. M. F. (Luigi Manfredini Fecit.) Exergue. AUSTRIACIS FULMINE DEIECTIS MDCCCIX. "The Austrians overwhelmed by thunder."

Medal struck at Milan, after the battle of Ratisbon.

239. Plate XLIV. A view of the Porte St. Martin in Paris. Above, PORTE ST. MARTIN. ANDRIEU F. DENON D. Exergue. L'EMPEREUR PART DE PARIS LE XIII AVRIL MDCCCIX.

Reverse. A view of the gate of Carinthia at Vienna. Above, PORTE DE CARINTHIE. Exergue. L'EMPEREUR ENTRE A VIENNE LE XIII MAI MDCCCIX. ANDRIEU F. DENON D. (P.M.)

240. Plate XLIV. DANUVIUS PONTEM INDIGNATUS.* The Danube, in fury, destroying a bridge of boats. Exergue. PROELIUM AD ESINGAM. XX MAII MDCCCIX.

Reverse. ITERUM—IBIDEM. "Again—the same way." Troops passing over a bridge. Victory, hovering in the air, holds a crown over their standards. BRENET F. DENON D. Exergue. TRAJECTUS V JULII MDCCCIX. (P.M.)

241. Plate XLIV. Turreted female figure, standing in an attitude indicating perfect security ; her left foot is placed on the prow of a vessel, her right hand leans on an inverted spear, and in her left is a caduceus. In the field, a hand, supported by three towers, arms of the city of Antwerp.

* Virgil. Georg. lib. i. vers. 281.

• Pontem indignatus Arades.—Virgil. Æn. lib. viii. vers. 728

DENON D. DEPAULIS F. Exergue. ANVERS ATTAQUÉE PAR LES ANGLAIS. MDCCCIX.

Reverse. JUPITER STATOR. Jupiter seated on his throne, one hand resting on a lance, the other holding the thunder. DENON D. DONARD F. Exergue. NAPOLEON A SCHOENBRUN. MDCCCIX. (P.M.)

The representation of Jupiter Stator, alludes to the rallying of the French army at the battle of Essling.

242. Plate XLV. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. A river god reclining on his urn; behind the urn, is a peasant flying towards lofty mountains. Near the river is a French standard eagle. Exergue. LES AIGLES FRANÇAISES AU DELÀ DU RAAB. MDCCCIX. DUBOIS F. DENON D. (P.M.)

243. Plate XLV. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. The Tiber, holding a cornucopia and rudder, reclines on his urn, at the foot of the Capitol, on which is the Temple of Jupiter. At his feet, is a wolf and child. In the air, an eagle bearing the thunder. On the base, ANDRIEU F. DENON D. Exergue. AQUILA REDUX. "The Eagle returned." MDCCCIX. (P.M.)

Medal to celebrate the incorporation of Rome with the French Empire.

244. Plate XLV. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. ROME. PARIS. Busts of Rome, with a helmet, on which is the wolf with Remus and Romulus; and of Paris, whose head is ornamented with a vessel,—the arms of the City. Underneath, DENON D. DEPAULIS F. MDCCCIX. (P.M.)

Struck on the same occasion, and when Rome was declared second city of the French Empire.

245. Plate XLV. A variety from another die.

246. Plate XLV. Same head and inscription as No. 101.

Reverse. A cow giving suck to a calf. Above, a club. Types of the ancient coins of Apollonia and Dyrrachium. Exergue. CONQUÊTE DE L'ILLYRIE. MDCCCIX. DEPAULIS F. DENON D. (P.M.)

247. Plate XLV. Same head and inscription as No. 101.
